

Rights and Responsibilities

Clients have the right to:

- Receive information about diagnosis, treatment, prognosis, and alternatives in understandable terms
- Expect that medical care and records will be treated confidentially
- Participate in a plan of care
- Gain information necessary to give informed consent before the start of any therapy or treatment
- Request and receive detailed information about the cost of care
- Collaborate and give feedback about the treatment plan, without it affecting care or the relationship with the provider
